Submit Online at <https://barber.nv.gov>

In Accordance with NRS 643.110 and NAC 643.100, the following rules are applicable to you for failure to pass the recent examination:

1. If an applicant for a license as an apprentice fails the examination, he may not take another examination until he has given proof to the board that he has, before the examination, completed a 250-hour refresher course in a barber school approved by the board, or, if licensed in another state, obtained 250 hours of experience pursuant to that license.
2. An Applicant must take the first regularly scheduled examination after completing the requirements listed in subsection 1, unless prior approval to miss that examination is granted by the board. The applicant has the burden of proving to the board's satisfaction that good cause prevents him from taking that examination.
